The minimal facility information includes number of employees, area of the facility, source industrial classification code (SIC), and North American Industrial Classification System (NAICS) code applicable to the facility in the reporting year. Both the SIC and NAICS codes give a general description of the product manufactured at the facility. The program will allow the addition of SIC and NAICS codes.

DNR is assisting people that either have established or are planning Environmental Management Systems (EMS). The two question survey helps DNR in contacting people that are interested in this program.
